

Chris Wolff

Actor, Action Performer and Director

I have spent several years working as a stunt performer, during this time I took lead roles, was beaten up, shot, stabbed, run down by horses and thrown off the top of buildings. In addition I also directed fights, set up action sequences and directed performers.

More recently I have begun to specialise my performance and direction skills in the realm of video game motion capture and have just completed a shoot where I provided all the fight sequences and cut-scenes for Empire: Total War

“Chris is a very capable stunt performer, who brings a real can do attitude to the set”

Jamie Montgomery,
Director “The Stranger”
